Conference General Chair: Dr. Andreas Tolk

Email: hsc@scs.org

The Huntsville Simulation Conference (HSC – www.scs.org/hsc) will hold a conference and exhibition in Huntsville, Alabama on October 27th and 28th, 2010 at the Marriott Hotel. The HSC is sponsored by the Society for Modeling and Simulation (SCS – www.scs.org) and hosted by the Alabama Modeling and Simulation Council (AMSC – www.amsc.to). The HSC expects to draw about 250 participants, primarily from Huntsville and the Southeastern states.

The HSC exhibition will have twelve, 10x10 areas available for displays in the Marriott pre-function area outside of the ballroom at $500 each. There will be one, 20 amp electrical outlet (bring your own powerstrip) for any power needs. Telephone and internet connections are available only by prior arrangement with the hotel. The pre-function area is the location for registration and refreshments during the meetings and a wine and cheese party held for all HSC participants on October 27th. Exhibitors will be listed in the HSC final program distributed to their respective participants. Exhibitors (and their web sites) will be listed in the HSC conference proceedings CD and on the HSC web site (www.scs.org/hsc) if exhibitor registration is completed by September 9. Exhibit booth locations are assigned on a first come, first served basis.

Exhibits are open only to HSC participants. If you want to invite customers to see your exhibit, you should forward them a copy of the HSC conference registration form.

Any personnel in the exhibit area will need conference registration badges as either an exhibitor or a conference participant. (Unattended exhibits are permitted.) An exhibitor registration fee of $50 covers two lunches, and the wine/cheese party in the exhibit area. Alternatively, you can register for the full HSC meeting if you wish to gain access to the meeting rooms for presentations.

Detailed exhibition information, an exhibit contract and exhibitor guidelines can be found on the HSC web site, under the link called “Exhibitor Information”.

I hope you will consider coming to Huntsville for the HSC conference and exhibition. Please contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Andreas Tolk
