

OPEN ACCESS HEALTHCARE MODELING AND SIMULATION JOURNAL

JOB OPENING: CHIEF EDITOR (VOLUNTARY)

The Society for Modeling and Simulation International (SCS) seeks a volunteer, Editor-in-Chief for our Open Access Healthcare Modeling and Simulation Journal.

Working closely with SAGE, the Editor-in-Chief is instrumental in building the reputation of the journal and assuring its place as a scholarly repository for modeling and simulation knowledge. The Editor-in-Chief should be from a reputable institution in academia or industry at a suitable stage in his or her career but with enough time to devote to working on the journal. The role of the Editor-in-Chief is primarily to commission content for the journal, work with the managing editor to administer the peer review process, and contribute to developing strategic direction of the journal together with SAGE and SCS.

POSITION RESPONSIBILITY:

- The Editor-in-Chief is responsible for coordinating the activities of the journal with SAGE.
- The Editor-in-Chief shall arrange for article solicitation for publication in the Journal, and shall be responsible for the selection and revision of articles through peer review in accordance with SAGE policies, processes and operational aspects, including their technical original content, form, conciseness, clarity and accuracy.
- As necessary, the Editor-in-Chief shall secure the assistance of associate editors, subject area editors and advisory editors. In addition, the EIC will coordinate with the SCS VP of Publications on administrative, personnel and other issues that may occur.
- The Editor-in-Chief, with the assistance of the Managing Editor, shall be responsible for providing the Publisher with all articles via SAGE's web-based submission system in a form suitable for publication that is acceptable to the Publisher and ready for production.
- The position of Editor-in-Chief is overseen by the SCS VP of Publications and SCS Board of Directors who have final say in initiating, extending and terminating the appointment.

POSITION QUALIFICATIONS:

- Active/dynamic and driven: active researcher.
- High profile: publicly vocal on the subject in question, has been active in related important organizations/groups.
- Experienced: prior experience of being a journal editor/ associate editor/guest editor and/or experience of being an editorial board member/referee.
- Organized: meets production deadlines, manages editorial office well, supplies complete copy.
- Responsive: responds promptly, stays contactable.
- Savvy: knowledge of modern journals publishing and related concepts, open to new ideas.
